THURSDAY, Oct. 28 The great strike in Russia was the determining factor to-day in all the world's financial markets. There were, it is true, no recurrences of such violent scenes in St. Peterioura and elecwhere in Russia as were witnessed earlier in the year, and it is doubtful if any particular financial effect would have resulted from the present disturbances if just at this time negotiations for the new Russian loan were not pending; but the conjunction of the two incidents leads naturally to the fear on the sensitive European bourses that the date of the making of the loan may be postponed, which would mean, of course, a prolongation of the current more or less tied up condition of financial affairs in Paris, London and Berlin. In Paris to-day discounts rose and sterling exchange fell, both movements taking place with some sharpfiess. Russian bonds were notably weak everywhere. French rentes and English consols were depressed and there was heavy liquidation for Paris account in London and selling for London account here. The unpleasantness of the Russian developments was assisted by a poor weekly statement of the Bank of England showing a decrease for the week in the proportion of reserve to liabilities from 43.21 to 40.17 per cent. The bank's gold holdings decreased $1,200,000. The Imperial Bank of Germany made a more favorable exhibit, gaining in the week nearly $12,000,000 in each and reducing its loans by $20,000,000. The Bank of France's weekly return showed no great changes either in cash or loan items. Coincident with the rise in money and the decline in sterling in Paris to-day came an advance in sterling here, which brought our market closer to the gold export point than it has been at any time during the season. Sterling exchange here is still, according to ordinary methods of calculation, half a cent in the pound away from the figure at which metal remittances can profitably be made. Nevertheless the situation of affairs caused rumors in the afternoon that a large quantity of gold had been engaged for shipment to the other side. The rumors were wholly untrue, and yet foreign exchange houses freely admitted that if money rates here continued to fall and the foreign demands for money continued to increase in the way that they had been for ten days back gold exports n the near future were not improbable.

Opening prices of stocks to-day were in the majority of instances below yesterday's closing figures, the unsettled tendencies of the market noticed yesterday afternoon resulting, apparently, in overnight orders to sell stocks. The decline however, only extended through the first few minutes of trading, and the market once more turned strong. The Reading Delaware and Hudson and other stocks of the hard coal roads led in the advance as usual, and the Distillers' Securities American Locomotive, American Smelting and Refining, United States Steel and other prominent industrial shares were also actively bought, Smelting stock, indeed, rising to a new high record figure. But on the other hand, while selling pressure was somewhat less persistent in the Rock Island issues than it was yesterday, it was more so in Metropolitan Street Railway and Brooklyn Rapid Transit stocks, and the general market, even if manifesting a firm undertone, presented the same peculiarly irregular appearance that it has for some days past. After the first hour of business the volume of buying and selling materially diminished, and the market dulness that ensued, covering the entire middle portion of the day, was followed in the late afternoon by a renewal of the sales of stocks for both accounts which occurred yesterday and which once more at the end of the day caused general declines to be recorded throughout the list. Notable exceptions to the fall were the Chicago and Northwestern and Northern Pacific stocks. The coal stocks also as a rule closed practically unchanged. The Atchison Septem-SAN FRANCISCO | ber report, published to-day, showed an increase in gross earnings of $301,491 and in net of $6,542,000, and was perhaps fully as good as had been expected. Liquidation of Pressed Steel Car and other industrial stocks was, as was thought in some quarters, assisted by the failure of the directors of the Pressed Steel company at their meeting vesterday to declare a dividend on the common stock, and also by the passing of the dividend to-day on American Hide and Leather preferred stock. Enlargements of dividends in the present year upon the stocks of any of the leading railway supply companies have, however, hardly been looked for by conservative people, while the suspension of dividends upon the American Hide and Leather preferred shares has long been regarded as a foregone conclusion. The last named company has suffered through the rise in the cost of the raw material used by it and by an injudicious policy in the matter of dividend distribution adopted earlier in the year.

the latter afterward lost much of its early gain. Albany and Susquehanna bonds had a further advance, in sympathy with Delaware and Hudson stock. Interborough, after early strength, fell off in sympathy with other local traction issues. Mining issues were irregular with a sharp break, followed by recovery, in United Copper. International Salt lost a portion of its recent advance. Mercantile Marine issues were rather heavy. Chicago Subway was moderately active without notable price feature. The close was heavy.

In the cotton market realizing of profits on both sides of the water after the very sharp advance of late caused a ranch the lower of the construction first put upon the ginners report of Wednesday. It was assumed that this was a buillah statement and the market advanced sharply in accordance with this idea. But to day very many were disposed to assign more weight to port and that the incomplete statement was not necessarily indicative of a crop as small as many have assumed. The bear leader contends that it may mean anywhere from 11,000,000 to 12,000,000 bales, and certainly less was heard in the trade to the same of the same of the same of the conviction that the yield is but little, if anything, more than that. It is very doubtful whether complete returns of the ginning can be secured. The manufacturer does not state the size of his stocks of goods on hand nor the amount of raw cotten hand. The planter and ginner are disposed to ask why they should show theigs. They think that to do so would be simply picking a sitck for their own back. However this may be, the reports thus far received are certainly incomplete and many far received are certainly incomplete and many far received are certainly incomplete and many sassuming that the crop is a partial failure as so many of the buils are loudly proclaiming it to be. Meantime Russian affairs are threatening and this fact is supposed to have some effect in Liverpool. The weather in the main was more favorable, assuming that the crop is a partial failure as so many of the buils are loudly proclaiming it to be. Meantime Russian affairs are threatening and this fact is supposed to seil. Bears attacked the market with considerable success and uncovered a good many stop orders. On the dealine, however, large spot markets were generally firm, with considerable success and uncovered a good many stop orders. On the dealine is miny a natural reaction and due rather to too much company on the long side than the record of the market of the record of the supply many are cialm
